DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Welsch et al (3,358,950) in view of Forrester (5,620,058). Welsch discloses a rapid deployment system comprising an aircraft at least one tube coupled to the aircraft (see Figure 1). Forrester discloses every remaining aspect of the present invention and that it is well known to use a flexible tube for the deployment of troops from an aircraft (see Col. 3, lines 57-63). It would have been obvious at the time of the invention to one having ordinary skill in the art to include the teachings of Forrester into the device of Welsch to rapidly and safely deploy troops or cargo.

3. Claims 2-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Welsch et al (3,358,950) in view of Forrester (5,620,058). Forrester teaches the elements recited in these claims.

4. Claim 48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Welsch et al (3,358,950) in view of Forrester (5,620,058). Re - Claim 48: Welsch discloses a method for rapid deployment from an aircraft comprising the installation of a tube. Forrester discloses every remaining aspect of the present invention and further that it is well known to use a flexible tube for the deployment of troops from an aircraft. (see Col. 3, lines 57-63). It would have been obvious at the time of the invention to one having ordinary skill in the art to include the teachings of Forrester into the method of Welsch to rapidly and safely deploy troops and cargo.

5. Claims 49-52 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Welsch et al (3,358,950) in view of Forrester (5,620,058). Forrester teaches the elements recited in these claims.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
